RAILROAD GIVES REDUCED FARES TO K. E. A. MEMBERS

The Kentucky Educational Association will convene in Louisville on June 23, to the 26. The meeting is set later than usual in order that schools might not be required to lose more time for the teachers to attend this meeting.

The railroads of the State have agreed to give a reduced rate to those attending this meeting. The fare will be one and one-third of the regular fare, but to get advantage of the reduced rate tickets must be bought to Louisville and a receipt taken from the agent for the purchase price of the ticket. This receipt, when signed by the Secretary of the Association, will be accepted as two-thirds of the return fare. Teachers should not fail to take advantage of this rate, but to do so you must pay the full fare one way, and present the receipt for same when you purchase your return ticket.

The County Superintendent has written each teacher in Breckinridge county urging a record attendance at this meeting and advising teachers to take advantage of the reduced rate.

To meet the educators of the State, to see and hear what the teachers of this and other states are doing, and to exchange ideas with school people will give any teacher a broader view of his work and enable him to do his work better, to live in closer harmony with his profession, and to get more out of life.

U. OF K. HONORS ONE COUNTY HERO

Lewis Herndon's Name Inscribed on Tablet And Unveiled Last Saturday.

Breckinridge county's first hero who gave his life in the world war was also the Kentucky University's first hero. Lewis Washington Herndon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Herndon, of Irvington was one of the University boys honored Saturday when tablets were unveiled to men of various departments of mechanical and electrical engineering who lost their lives.

The tablets were erected in honor of: Ernest Raymond Pursley, class 1916, killed in action November 2, 1918; Leonard Cabeell Bridges, class of 1910, died of disease April 5, 1919; Lewis Washington Herndon, class of 1919, killed in action March 30, 1918; Clarence Russell Gaugh, class of 1917, died of disease October 11, 1918; Howard Irving Kinne, class of 1918, killed in action September 29, 1918; and George Rogers Clark, class of 1915, died of disease November 13, 1918.

AUSPICIOUS OPENING

Of The Lafayette Skydome On Saturday Eve. Clear Skies Bring A Good Crowd.

The continuous rainy weather last week delayed the formal opening of the Lafayette Skydome until Saturday evening, and then the clear skies proved an incentive to a large number of Cloverporters to attend the auspicious beginning of the open air theatre.

The only disadvantage in having the skydome is the daylight savings. It was nearly nine o'clock before darkness was complete and the movies could start.

Mr. Holder, the manager, made the opening speech assuring his patrons of giving them good shows during the summer, and of his keen interest in the town's general welfare. He was followed by Rev. Couch, who made a few appropriate remarks and then several pretty music selections were given by the Misses May, Mrs. L. T. Reid, Miss Susanne Crutchfield and the movie orchestra.

FIVE C'PORT MEN LEAVE FOR OKLA.

To Work in Harvesting Crops During Summer Months. Make Trip by Land.

Five men from this place left Tuesday morning for Oklahoma, where they will work in different sections of the State, harvesting the summer crops. Those who went were Messrs. Hilary Hardin, Cletus Wilson, Gabe and Carl Beavin and Andrew McCracken.

The men motored through in Mr. Hardin's car and expect to make the trip in about five days. Mr. Hardin will locate in Walters, Okla., where he has already accepted a place on the Rogers Farm running a threshing machine.

A letter came here to Mr. Hardin from a former Cloverport man, Mr. John McGavock, of Walters, who wrote of the urgent need of laborers in that part of Oklahoma, which induced these men to go.

Master Mechanic Ferry Attending M. M. And M. C. B. Convention.

Mr. Frank Ferry, Master Mechanic of the L. H. & St. L. R. R. shops, and Mrs. Ferry left Sunday for Atlantic City, where Mr. Ferry will attend the annual convention of the Master Mechanic and Master Car Builders of the U. S. A.

While there Mr. and Mrs. Ferry will have for their guest this weekend at the Hotel Shelbourn, Miss Claudia Pate, of Washington, D. C. Enroute home, Mr. and Mrs. Ferry expect to visit New York City and the National Capitol.

Aged Man Breaks His Hip

Mr. S. B. Walker, age 78 years, of near New Bethel, Ky., who fell and broke his hip last week at his home, is slowly improving. Mr. Walker was sitting on his front porch and when he got up to go into the house, he tripped on a rug and fell.

Dr. John Kincheloe, of Hardinsburg was summoned immediately.

Anthony Harrington Takes His Life By Hanging Himself In A Barn.

Garfield, Ky., June 16. (Special)—

Anthony Harrington, a bachelor and of a well known family, who lives at Cecilia, was missed from his home Sunday night and upon investigation by members of the family his lifeless body was found hanging in a barn. Mr. Harrington, it is stated, has been very despondent for several months due to ill health, and it is generally believed that this was the cause of his ending his life.

Mr. Harrington was fifty years old and the son of the late Wesley Harrington. He is survived by two brothers, James and Milard Harrington. Messrs. Thos J. and John W. Harrington, of Cloverport are cousins of the deceased.

HEATED DISCUSSIONS ARISE FROM THE THREE ROADS MEETING HELD IN OWENSBORO LAST WEEK

From the time Judge J. H. Newmann, of Hawesville, chairman of the Ohio river route, as temporary chairman, called the meeting to order Wednesday afternoon, June 11, and nominations for a permanent chairman were in order, the meeting which started out to be a joint meeting of advocates of the three proposed federal aid routes, until a vote was finally won to adjourn, the convention was a tempestuous one, filled with heated discussions.

Judge C. W. Wells, of this county, was named for election as chairman, and the motion seconded by several. The chairman of the Ohio river route then offered a nomination, but at the instance of the temporary chairman, withdrew his nomination, and Judge Wells was unanimously elected. J. Leo Fentress, of Central City, was elected secretary.

In making his opening address, Judge Wells foresaw the situation. He said that he felt as if he was standing on the brink of a volcano. He then said as a warning that any long speeches, no matter how eloquent, would accomplish nothing, as nothing but the money to build the roads and the report of the government officials would select the route. He said no government agent has been over the routes.

Mr. W. J. Piggott, of Breckinridge county, then moved that the Ohio river route meeting be adjourned, subject to the call of the chairman. An amendment to have the meeting after June 18 was offered and accepted.

A heated battle as to where the meeting would be held finally terminated in Owensboro being selected as the next meeting place.

Judge F. A. Lochry, of McLean county, then offered a resolution that was the storm center for the remainder of the meeting. It seemed for a time as if nobody was satisfied, but eventually the fight narrowed to the designation of the route in Muhlenberg and Hopkins counties. Several minor amendments were made, and at 4:30 o'clock, after more than two hours of discussion the following resolution was adopted:

The Resolution
Resolved—that the Central Route organization recommend to Honorable Rodman Wiley and the state and federal road department that there be designated and constructed a federal highway beginning at Dawson Springs and running eastwardly through Hopkins county, through White Plains, crossing the Hopkins and Muhlenberg county line at Clark's ferry, thence through Muhlenberg county to Greenville, Central City and South Carrollton to the Muhlenberg and McLean county line, near Sacramento, thence through McLean county through Sacramento and Calhoun, thence along or near the Owensboro and Calhoun road through McLean and Daviess counties to Owensboro thence over or near the Leitchfield road through Whitesville and Crossing the Ohio county line, near the intersection of that line with the Leitchfield road, thence through Ohio county through Fordsville and Falls of Rough road through Breckinridge county and Grayson county at Falls of Rough to and through Leitchfield, thence through Hardin county at Elizabethtown to connect with the Dixie highway.

And we further recommend the designation and construction of an additional federal highway beginning at Dawson Springs running thence through Hopkins county by way of Elizabethtown and Madisonville and Anto road to the Dutch Fish Trap on Pond river, thence through McLean county to Sacramento, connecting at that point with the road first above recommended; and we further recommend and request that said road be designated and constructed in sections and that as soon as arrangements have been made to finance any section thereof, that it be designated.

Storm of Protest
After several had spoken for and against the resolution, Judge Newmann called the delegates of the Ohio river route for a meeting to be held in the Rudd house. This caused a storm of protest, and finally resulted in the Judge reconsidering his call as the meeting had but a short time before been postponed until after June 18. At this juncture, more than

SUICIDE DUE TO DESPONDENCY

Anthony Harrington Takes His Life By Hanging Himself In A Barn.

Louisville, Ky., June 16, 1919. (Special to The Breckinridge News)—The Louisville papers recently published an announcement of the establishment of a Department of War Verse under the Kentucky Council of Defense and asked that the poets of Kentucky cooperate with the Poetry Historian in making the records complete. By complete is meant containing a photograph, biographical sketch, and at least one poem from each War Verse writer in the State. The writers do not have to be recognized in the literary world, although those recognized are to be recorded too, for much verse has been written by those who never wrote before.

Mrs. Cecie Jackson Sea, of 111 East St. Catherine St., Louisville, Ky., who has been appointed to take charge of the poetry work, announces that although she has some of Kentucky's best poetry in her files, she feels sure it is a very small percentage of what has been written.

The following counties are represented, several of them having two or more poets to their credit:

Bullitt, Daviess, Fayette, Grayson, Graves, Hancock, Hardin, Hart, Jefferson, Logan, Meade, Marion, Muhlenberg.

An appeal is made to every poet and every interested citizen to communicate with Mrs. Sea and help make a clean sweep of the states.

* HAS A NEWSPAPER THAT WAS PUBLISHED IN 1863. *

* * * * *

Mr. Perry Kemp, of Tell City, Ind., has a valuable relic in his hands in the way of a newspaper known as the "Wall Paper Edition of The Vicksburg Daily Citizen."

The paper, as it is stated in the date line, was "set up for print July 2, 1863, before the surrender to Grant, and issued by his order July 4." It is printed on the reverse side of a small piece of figured wall paper. It has been perfectly preserved during these years of a little more than half a century, and its bits of war news are most interesting.

GUY WIRE SAVES TWO MEN'S LIVES

Traveling Salesmen of American Tobacco Co., Narrowly Escape Fatal Injuries.

Two traveling salesmen representing the American Tobacco Company, were probably saved from death last Thursday morning in this city when the driver lost control of the steering gear to their Ford runabout and nearly ran over into the Clover creek bank.

The men were approaching the West end of the Clover creek bridge going at a pretty fast speed when they struck a bad place in the road throwing the steering gear loose and the car ran into the side railing of the bridge. Fortunately a guy wire to a telephone poll was on the outside of the railing and it kept the car from going over into the creek bank.

The men escaped unharmed and their car was only slightly damaged.

NOTICE

In Re County Roads:

On motion duly made, seconded and carried, and pursuant to and by authority of Chapter 169 of the Acts of the General Assembly, 1918, it is ordered that it shall be the duty of every owner, controller and manager of lands bordering and abutting on the public Highways of this Commonwealth, for the distance, which their land so abuts and borders; to cut clear away, remove and carry from, along side of Public Highways all bushes, weeds shrubs and overhanging limbs of trees, and all other obstructions along such highways, and to keep all hedge fences, along such highways, so trimmed and cut back that same at no time will become more than five (5) feet high.

Said brush, bushes, weeds and overhanging limbs and trees, along said highway aforesaid, shall be cut, and removed as herein provided, between the first day of July and the 20th day of August of each year, from this date. And the County Road Engineer of Breckinridge County is ordered and directed to publish this order in some paper, published in the County for at least 2 consecutive weeks before the first day of July, of each year, and to give notice by hand bills, posted in not less than 10 conspicuous places in each voting precinct of this county outside of the incorporated towns.

In the event the Breckinridge Fiscal Court has not appointed or elected a County Road Engineer in time to perform the duties, then the County Judge is directed to publish said notices and said hand bills posted as required herein.

The penalty prescribed by the Statutes for failure of any owner, manager, or controller, of lands along said highways, is a fine of not less than $25.00 or more than $100.

S. B. Payne,
Judge Breckinridge County Court.
A Copy Att.

A. T. Beard,
Clerk Breckinridge County Court.

THRIFT TEACHING DEVELOPS CHARACTER.

Surely nothing is more important than the teaching of the fundamental principles of saving. Surely nothing can develop stronger character than the self-denial which will necessarily be practiced in learning the principles of economy. Surely nothing affords a better opportunity of teaching the practical principles of patriotism than that which is afforded by the use of War Savings Stamps in teaching Thrift in the schools of our country.

Seasonable Topics.

Berries intended for shipment should not be picked when they are wet with dew or rain.

When the "June drop" is over, and before the pits harden, is the right time to thin peaches on trees that are heavily laden.

Deep cultivation in the orchard may do more harm than good. Three inches is deep enough around trees—once in two weeks.

No grain crops should be grown in the orchard. It doesn't pay. Cultivated crops may do while the trees are young and their roots do not need all the space; but that time is soon over and then the trees should reign supreme.

Cultivate the new strawberry bed and the bush fruits about once in ten days. But shallow, please! Surplus suckers in blackberry or red raspberry patches should be treated just like weeds; don't let the rows get too wide nor too thick.

Curing timothy: Cut timothy just as the bloom is falling. If the crop is not too heavy and rank, cut as soon as the dew is off, let it cure a few hours, rake into windrows, and haul to the barn the same day. If the crop is rank, cut it in the afternoon; it will wilt some during the night and dew will not hurt it. Next day's sun will dry it in a few hours, when it can be raked into windrows; haul it to the barn in the early afternoon.

JUNE 18, 1919

ITINERARY FOR A PRINCE.

We trust that the Prince of Wales when he comes here in August, will not content himself with the prim pleasures of Newport and a formal visit to cities like New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Washington. A motor trip across the country would bring him into real touch with the United States. If he could see the corn and oats in Illinois and Iowa, the wheat and rye in Kansas and the Dakotas, the barley in California and Minnesota, he would know perfectly how America was able to feed millions of soldiers.

In Texas the Prince could see the greatest of cotton crops and the home of Colonel House. In Michigan he could see where the best furniture of the Elizabethan period is made and why Henry Ford is. In Kentucky he could gaze upon miles of tobacco plants and scores of ruined distilleries.

Surely the Prince will visit Niagara Falls as his grandfather did sixty years ago. No Blondin will be there, but any number of obliging aviators will fly across the gorge for his edification, and natives will point out the last of the dying race of robber back-drivers.

When the Prince comes to New York he will see some of the buildings which Prince Albert saw, like Trinity Church and City Hall and Cooper Union and a few more. He will see things that grandpa never saw here, such as hat check boys and efficiency experts. Now is the time, Prince, to see America, the country that invented electric lights, airships and the Monroe Doctrine. Try your hand at the fascinating sport of trying to get a telephone connection and let Mr. Burleson, lose a letter for you!—New York Sun.

SUPPORTING THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

A very interesting statement comes from ex-President Wm. H. Taft, who has just returned from a tour in the New England and middle West sent under the auspices of the League to Enforce Peace, to find out the attitude of those people in regard to the League of Nations.

During the fifteen days tour more than 100 audiences were addressed by Mr. Taft and others. The ex-President says he found a strong support for the League. He further says: "We believe the American people are resolved to do whatever is possible in order to avert a repetition of the disaster that has searched humankind, and the people, we have found, understand that the League of Nations alone can guarantee such an ordering of international affairs as can give people the promise of peace. If it was difficult to avert war before this time, it will be trebly difficult, if not impossible, in the future unless some instrument of peace be invoked as the League of Nations.

"If America has part therein the League of Nations will be established and peace through justice will have become possible for all nations, great and small."

THE BEST HUSBANDS

Someone has truthfully said that an editor is thought to be an authority on all subjects from setting a hen to running a U. S. senator. But the limit to being an authority was reached by this Editor:

"Our editorial staff has been weighed in the balance and found wanting, to our great disappointment. Some time ago an organization of women in Rochester, after vainly struggling with a problem for some time, referred it to us, being assured they said, that we knew everything. The question was, 'Do married men make the best husbands?'

"The foreign editor, the financial editor, the fashion editor, the editor at large, and the newly married office boy have considered the question individually and in convention assembled, and confess their inability to answer it definitely. The consensus of opinion seems to be that available data are inadequate. None of them, they say, have ever known any other kind of husbands than married ones, and comparison is difficult under the circumstances."

It would be a good thing if when we get dissatisfied with our present job, to try offering it in an advertisement for some other fellow to accept. Then read your own advertisement; perhaps you'll be better satisfied. It always pays to advertise.

Salvaging of Saloons to be run on a "boozeless" plan as places where working men may meet is an incident of the Salvation Army's plan following the drive for its Home Service Fund, which will be held in Kentucky the week of June 23, to 30.

The Breckenridge News is full of good roads talk this week. If printer's ink will bring good roads into Breckenridge county, even the editor has a chance at owning a "fiver" some day.

It's an awful temptation to be lazy these dot days, especially since the pressing need of war work has let up—but fortunately the H. C. L. keeps many of us out of the "devil's work shop."

There were not any Breckenridge county boys sited for special bravery during the world war, but still the folks back home know and feel that they were brave and that's all that is necessary.

Should the old adage about "a June damp and warm does not make the farmer poor" prove good, the farmers around this section stand a pretty fair chance at having another year of prosperity.

FARM AND STOCK

Daviess county has just launched a very strong Farm Bureau. On May 7, Dean Cooper, of the College of Agriculture, met the agricultural workers, the presidents of the sixteen farm clubs, and discussed the value of a Farm Bureau for Daviess county. Later twenty-five business men had the plan laid before them.

A campaign for membership was pushed by the forces used in the Liberty Loan Drives. Five hundred and sixty-two farmers and business men became members and agreed to pay $5 annual dues. These funds will be used to furnish the county agent and the home demonstration agent with offices and stenographic help; also to equip and maintain a reading room for farmers and a rest room for farmers' wives. A matron will be in charge of the rest room to care for small children left there while their mothers are making purchases in Owensboro.

Last April a letter came to the college of Agriculture from the Marshall County Duroc Breeders' Association, however, was not composed entirely of farmers or old breeders; but mainly of the boys who were in club work. This organization, developed out of pig club work among the boys which began in the fall of 1917. At that time 42 pure-bred duroc gilts were placed among the club members. The next autumn, 1918, 125 gilts were exhibited by the boys. This accounts for the 500 pigs for sale in Marshall County this spring.

Crowds of farmers attended the annual inspection of the Experiment Field situated at Paducah, London, Mayfield, Russellville and Greenville.

Thomas Cooper, A. E. Ewan, George Roberts, Morgan Hughes and Godfrey Morgan, representing the Experiment Station and the Extension Division of the College of Agriculture, made the trip to the fields.

Farmers in all sections of the State will be interested in these fields which show the effect of ground limestone and phosphate. Wherever these two materials were used heavy crops of clover and fine wheat grew. On the plots where no limestone and phosphate were used little clover and light

THE BRECKENRIDGE NEWS, CLOVERPORT, KENTUCKY

KANSAS NEEDS 100,000 MEN TO SAVE WHEAT.

Washington, June 13. (Associate Press)—Clarence Ousley, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, reported to the Department to-day from Kansas City that Kansas needs 100,000 laborers to help harvest the record-breaking wheat crop. Whether Kansas will save her 200,000,000 bushels—about one-fourth of the country's winter wheat crop—depends on her ability to get adequate labor within the next few days, Mr. Ousley said.

NO SIR!
HE ONLY SAID IT—

but his word is as good as any bond. "What makes you so certain?" So one New York man said to another New York man this morning. "For thirty years I have known that man; he is as open as they make them and out and out upright, and his word goes without shadow of doubt with everybody who knows him."

Upon such a foundation any one can build up a city, a bank a corporation and any kind of an undertaking requiring sincerity and probity as well as intelligence.

With such a character (not a talent from birth) acquired from principles, forming the Springs of life, attained by all our young men and women, what a country America would be, what a power of wealth it would be in every State and all its cities.

Such a reputation would be worth more than a million to the young people leaving the colleges to take up their life work. Money is not everything to a business man.—John Wanamaker.

A PATH TO WEALTH.

With the modest start of one penny saved today, two cents tomorrow, four cents the day following, and so on for thirty days, each day doubling the amount set aside the previous day a vast fortune would be accumulated. By the thirtieth day $5,368,709.12 would represent the day's saving and the total for the month would be $10,726,932.48. Try it.

the Experiment Station at Lexington will bring the figures.

Harry Norton shipped from Webster, Monday 2 loads of hogs and 3 loads of lambs.

E. A. Hardesty, Stephensport, was at Irvington, Monday setting up a binder. Mr. Hardesty is one of the live merchants of Stephensport. He believes in advertising, why, because he finds that it pays.

Pile Brothers, Mook, are cutting this week 120 acres of wheat it is fine too.

J. D. Aldridge, living near Mook, made a business trip to Owensboro, last week. Mr. Aldridge shipped Green Brothers, Falls of Rough, recently 2 car loads of fine lumber, popular and white oak. Some of the boards measured 24 inches. It brought him $55 per thousand.

Brandenburg, Ekron, Flaherty, Rhodelia, Mooneyville, Ammons, Frymire, Irvington, Stephensport, Big Spring, Hardinsburg and Cloverport, had large delegations of enthusiastic Good Roads men at the meeting in Owensboro, last week.

W. L. Bellou, Ammons, was in Stephensport, Saturday. He is cutting this week, he says, 20 acres of the finest wheat he ever raised.

W. H. Driskell and Mrs. Driskell and children, were called to Ensor, Daviess county, Monday on account of the serious illness of their daughter, Mrs. Cornelia Wilhite.

Huse Alexander, Locust Hill, was in Hardinsburg, Monday. Says he has 50 acres of corn knee high and plowed over the second time. He also has 15 acres of fine tobacco.

Clarence Leaf, Tobingsport, was cutting wheat Sunday. All the wheat in the bottom will be cut this week.

The crop is reported good.

Lewis Perkins, Ammons, made a rush trip to Louisville, Monday for binder repairs. He has 100 acres of wheat to cut and says it is hardly worth the cutting. The scab has nearly ruined it. He has a fine crop of tobacco about 45 acres and 100 head of cattle feeding on clover fields knee high.

B. Hobbs, Garfield spent Sunday in Mystic, the guest of Miss Jola Bane. He goes this week to Dam 43 where he has a position.

Mrs. S. B. Laslie and children, of Sample went to McQuady, Monday to visit relatives.

C. D. Payne has located in Irvington. He recently sold out his business in Arkansas, where he has been for several years.

David Sutton, Garfield, was in Irvington, Monday on business.

J. M. and L. D. Canary, who purchased the Milner farm, near Stephensport, have a fine crop. They report 90 acres of corn, 16 acres of tobacco and 16 acres of oats all in good condition.

IN HARDINSBURG

Written by Mrs. J. F. Harth, Hardinsburg, Ky.

Tell me, ye winged winds
That round my pathway roar,
Do you not know some spot
Where mortals want no more;
Where the rich are so uncharitable,
And the poor are satisfied,
Where life is free from envy,
From selfishness and pride;
Where no one is compelled to work
Just live to take their ease,
And money made so easy
You'd think it grew on trees;
And life is all a summer's day
With nothing to distress,
The loud wind whistled slowly
And answered, "Yes O, yes—in Hardinsburg."

And thou serenest moon
With such a lovely face,
Who sees the whole world over
Can you not find a place,
Where the grocers all are honest,
And the lawyer-man's a saint;
Where women all are beautiful,
Without a sign of paint;
Where the doctors know their business
And the sick folks all get well;
Where the milliner, God bless her,
Has nothing small to sell;
Behind the cloud the moon withdrew
(So I could not see her laugh)
And with a sad voice responded,
"Just divide that thing in half
And you'll have—Hardinsburg."

What though the golden butter
Be quite forty cents a pound,
And eggs the same per dozen
And some of them unsound;
And "yaller-legged" chickens
Worth their meaty weight in gold,
Fairly knocks the poor man cold;
And milk, when you can get it,
Is oft times very pale,
And light bread by the single loaf
Would scarcely turn the scale;
And houses for rent high priced and small

With rooms reserved for things,
And not the style, I'm pretty sure,
As "The Palace of the Kings."
But—it's Hardinsburg.

Its balmy air is life itself
Just go out for a stroll,
Or get into an auto and down
Louisville street roll,
Where Meadows fine will greet you,
Where Beards grow in a row;
And if the names aren't Moorman,
They surely are Kincheloe;
And Taylors too and Millers,
Smiths, Browns and Jones galore,
And all of them the very best
What could you ask for more.
So I'll stay right here in Hardinsburg
And quite contend for it
And sing no more of other climes,
"Sweet lands, I sigh for thee;"
But when Gabriel blows his trumpet,
As I've been told he will,
I trust I'll hear the final call
And answer loudly,
"Still here in—Hardinsburg!"

ANOTHER DISAPPOINTMENT

The meeting of enthusiastic delegates from many counties on good roads projects in Owensboro, Wednesday was attended with few substantial results. Conflicting interests and viewpoints were so many that really nothing was accomplished. All delegates seemed agreed, however, that the great highway must go through Owensboro and Daviess county, because we have already 100 miles of road built or almost completed that radiate from Owensboro in all directions. But some of the plans most earnestly advocated would make a crazy quilt affair.

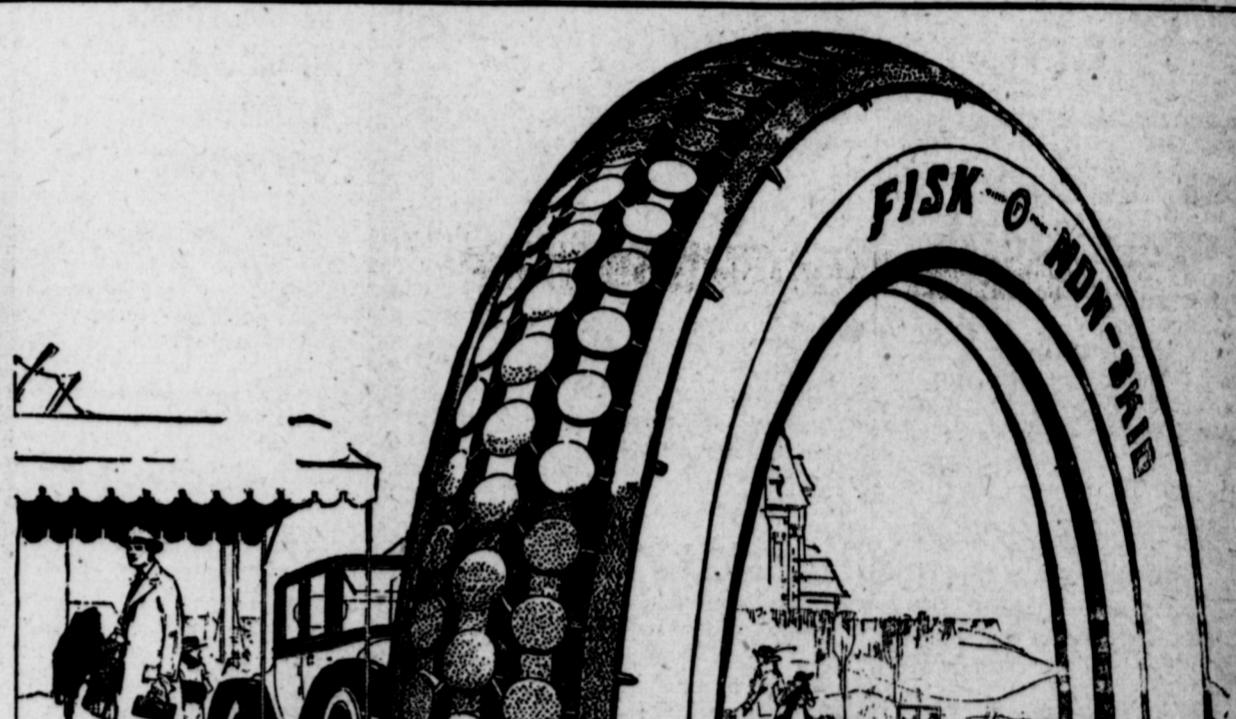

There was much disappointment that State Highway Commissioner Wiley, who had been much advertised for a speech in this really big meeting, did not put in appearance. Mr. Wiley evidently saw the storm brewing and discreetly absented himself. But in the end the state commissioner and the federal Governor ment's engineer must determine the route of this highway. Neither of them being present to present a plan of action the main meeting was nothing but a gabfest, just as a dozen previous meetings have turned out.

The people of several Western Kentucky counties, however, are greatly worked up on this subject. They have been voting road taxes and securing private subscriptions with amazing success. All cannot be on the main highway, it is plain enough and only when the federal and state authorities have designated the most practical route will those who can not hope to be directly on it be reconciled to building short branches to connect with it. Time is fleeting, the summer is on when real road construction should be under way, the money is ready on three or four different routes, but the whole under-taking is held up by the tardiness of those who must finally point the way.

* ALLEURING ATTRACTIONS. *

Another Western city, "flowing with milk and honey" is Phoenix, Arizona, at least Mr. and Mrs. Julius Sippel, former Irvington residents, have found it so.

In sending her subscription to The Breckenridge News, Mrs. Sipple gives a most interesting account of their new home which is in the newest State in the Union. And this is her account of it:

"Phoenix, the capitol, and metropolis of the State, lies in the center of the Salt River Valley; a valley of two hundred and sixty-five thousand acres of very fertile land, and watered from the Roosevelt Dam, the largest irrigation project in the West.

"This valley possesses a climate of very ideal and unique character, for most anything may be grown here. The principal crops are grape-fruit, oranges, dates, peaches, apricots, prunes and grapes in the fruit line; Egyptian long-staple cotton is so successfully grown that it has been the great money making crop, now for the past few years. The raising of alfalfa and dairying also receive much attention.

"We find many things here in the wide awake West to lure and hold the people. Many opportunities here for the young and old. Even 'Opportunity Schools' are in operation here now with classes in any subject, and free instruction for any age.

"Four million in bonds have just been voted by Maricopa county for good roads, and Phoenix is preparing to build a combination courthouse and city hall. Also a Union Station and a million dollar tourist hotel.

"Phoenix is on the main line of the proposed Aerial Mail Route from Los Angeles and also a relay station for the fliers in cross country flights.

"The Apache Areal transportation company has been organized here and working hard to get lines of transportation established between these western cities, and who knows but what I may come back to Kentucky, on a visit in an aeroplane before many years go by!

"We have enjoyed the best of health since coming to Arizona, and a goodly measure of prosperity.

"With best wishes to you and your paper. Yours respectfully, Mrs. Julius Sipple.

JUDGE NEWMAN'S DAUGHTER MARRIES IN NEW YORK.

(Special to the Clarion)

New York, June 7.—An item of interest here is the marriage of Miss Martha Hall Newman, of Kentucky, and Capt. Webster Whittall Belden, Medical Corps, U. S. Army of New Orleans, Louisiana. Miss Newman is the daughter of Judge George W. Newman of Kentucky, a great granddaughter of Alfred Hennan, the once prominent lawyer of New Orleans, La., a grand niece of Mrs. John A. Morris, of New Orleans, and New York.

The marriage took place Tuesday, June 3rd, in the church of the Transfiguration, New York, Rev. G. C. Houghton officiating. The bride was given away by her cousin, Mr. A. Hennen, of New York, her father not being able to be present.

The bride was very lovely in her bridal gown of ivory satin with a court train and Irish point lace draped on the shoulders and forming the sleeves. The veil was white tulle held in with orange blossoms. The only ornament worn was a necklace of pearls and diamonds, an heirloom from the bride's great-grandmother.

The maid of honor was Miss Mary Hatfield, of Nova Scotia, Canada, an intimate friend of the bride. Capt. Belden had as his best man, Mr. Huntington Goddard Carter, of New Orleans and New York. As ushers, Lts. Charles Waits and Charles Hughes brother officers, and Mr. Shelby Carter of New York.

The wedding was a very quiet one, the family and a few intimate friends being present. Owing to a recent death in Capt. Belden's family Capt. and Mrs. Belden left immediately after the ceremony for a short wedding trip. They expect to be at home at 88 St. Marks place near Brighton, Staten Island after the fourteenth of June. Capt. Belden is stationed at U. S. A. Gen Hosp. No. 41 Staten Island

CONGRESS IS NOT LIKELY TO REMOVE BAN ON BEER.

Is Kinchloe's Opinion, Beckham Stands Pat for Drys.

Washington.—"I shall be pleased to give my most careful consideration to your suggestion regarding wartime prohibition," was the reply of Senator Stanley to Hopkinsville, churches that called on Kentucky representatives in congress to use every effort in their power to prevent the repeal of wartime prohibition, and to make it binding until national prohibition shall become effective through constitutional amendment.

Copies of the resolutions recently adopted by the Hopkinsville churches were sent to Senators Stanley and Beckham and Representative Kinchloe. All three have sent their replies, according to advice from Hopkinsville.

Beckham Stands Pat

Senator Beckham said: "I can assure you that my position on this matter will be consistent with the one I have always taken on the question of prohibition and that I will aid in every way possible to bring about the complete establishment of prohibition, and that I will aid in every way possible to bring about the complete establishment of prohibition at the earliest practicable date."

Representative Kinchloe in his reply asserted that it was his opinion there is not a probability of congress removing the ban on beer, wine or whiskey, also that he thinks prohibition will become effective July 1; as originally intended. He says: "I am sure you understand that I have always voted for all temperance legislation that has come before Congress since I have been a member."

STOP POTATO WART DISEASE OR LOSE MILLIONS EACH YEAR

Grovers Asked by Federal and State Authorities to Help Prevent Spread of Dangerous New Malady That Menaces Important Vegetable Crop.

The potato industry is seriously menaced by a malady new to this country—the potato wart disease. Unless it can be eradicated before it spreads to commercial plantings, specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture say it will cost potato growers millions annually. It is easily recognized and when discovered it should be promptly reported to Federal or State agricultural officials.

Like many other plant diseases and insect pests, the potato wart disease was imported from Europe. It is without doubt the most serious potato disease yet discovered in the United States. Unless promptly suppressed it may prove disastrous to the entire American potato industry, which involves nearly half a billion dollars annually.

What to Look For.

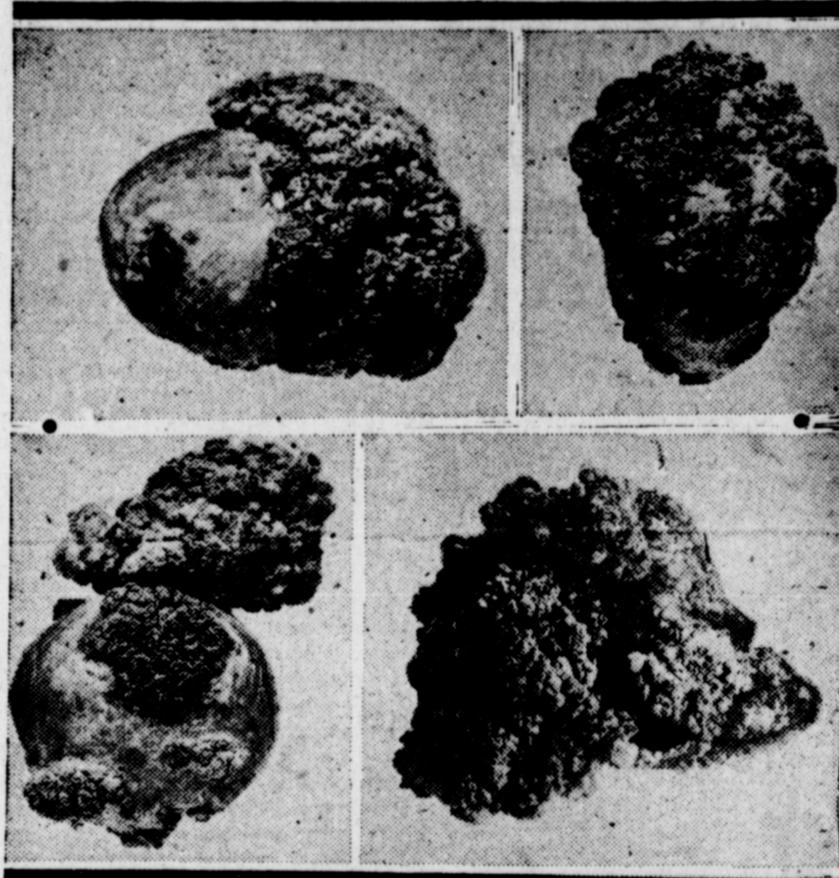

Two bright spots reduce the menace of this disease:

How This Disease May Be Spread.

Under ordinary conditions the potato wart disease spreads slowly. It lives in the soil and on the tubers, so one or the other must usually be transported to introduce the disease into a new field or locality. The spores may be carried into clean soil by drainage from infected soil, on the feet of man or animals, by planting diseased potatoes, by planting sound tubers that have grown on infected soil, by the use of manure from animals to which diseased potatoes have been fed and by garbage into which peelings from diseased potatoes have been thrown.

Preventive Measures.

No method of controlling the potato wart disease has yet been discovered, so every preventive measure must be used to keep it from spreading.

Potatoes in Different Stages of the Wart Disease.

Except, in its early stages, it is easily recognized; and is spreads slowly.

However, it can not be detected until the potatoes are dug, as it does not seriously affect the growth or vigor of the vines.

It usually appears in the eyes of the tubers. Spreading from this point of infection, it may gradually envelop the whole potato and render it a spongy, warty mass. It is characterized by the prominent wart-like outgrowths on the tubers.

The warts at first are whitish or light brown. Eventually they turn to a darker shade. After decay starts they turn black. Young warts, when exposed to the light, turn green.

The warty tumors vary from the size of a pea to a walnut; or they may even exceed the size of the potato on which they grow. In the latter case, the warty mass loses all resemblance to a potato. In some hills some of the potatoes may appear perfectly healthy, but the eyes are likely to be infected.

It is through the use of such appar-

The wart should be burned. Diseased tubers must not be fed to live stock without first being boiled. Infested soil should be planted to other crops. Potatoes should not be planted again in infested soil for at least eight years.

Federal and State agricultural authorities are working to prevent the spread of potato wart, but they will need heartiest cooperation from every grower and dealer of potatoes to save the industry from this new menace. Experiments are being conducted to learn, if possible, ways of controlling the malady and information will be furnished as rapidly as discovered. But potato wart disease is much easier to prevent than to control.

Keep watch at digging time for potatoes with warty growths which are whitish or light brown when young, black and decayed when old. Report promptly all suspicious cases to your county agent, to your State Agricultural Experiment Station, or to the United States Department of Agriculture.

The Big Part the Little Ford Played in the War.

To the Ford Auto Company, Detroit Mich., Dear Sirs: I was reading a few advertisements of different papers on autos, pertaining to what they have done in this war. But nothing about our little Ford. So I'm writing you a few facts which are as follows:

In France 700 cars out of 1,000 were Fords. In Italy 850 cars out of 1,000 were Fords. In Egypt 996 cars out of 1,000 were Fords. In Mesopotamia 999 cars out of 1,000 were Fords.

Under British capture, the first car in Bagdad was a Ford. The first car to cross the Persian Mountain was a Ford. The first car in the genuine Garden of Eden was a Ford. The first car in Holy Land was a Ford. Lines of communication contained Fords by the hundreds from Bagdad to the Black Sea.

I have seen the Fords used as tanks armoured moving forts, electric light plants, water pumps, ambulances, supply cars, and lots of other things, and they were always ready for anything at any time.

These statements are facts as I have served in action all through the countries named. And I name the Ford the best auto in the world. The Iron-Mule-With-A-Kick. I remain, Your friend, Bosun Bilbert, 31-331-W. R. I. W. T. R. E.

P. S. Also when we recaptured Kut, the first thing we landed on Ford with nothing left of it but under frame, bare wheels and one tire. Forty-five minutes afterwards, our Ford was maimed by a machine gun, and was on the chase of the retreating Turks and the Cobra Hun.

The above tells its own story. We have not added to, or detracted from it, one word or syllable, and it is doubtful if a higher tribute could be paid to the sterling merits and all around dependability of a motor car than that coming to the Ford car through this simple letter from a soldier, who would not have the opinion he has of the Ford car if he had not seen it deliver a service unequalled, not in history of war, but in the history of peace.

HARRY LAUDER ON THRIFT STAMPS.

"I contend that the man who invests in Government Securities," says Harry Lauder, the eminent Scotch comedian, "who buys War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps, is investing in the welfare of his country and the welfare of those depending upon him. War Savings Stamps will win the war. By that I mean that I do not consider the war fully ended until the world has secured a comfortable settlement for all the maimed and wounded men who got their wounds in the war."

LOCUST JUST LIKE SHRIMPS

Baltimore.—"Just like shrimps," said Dr. Ethan Allen Andrews, professor of zoology at the Johns Hopkins University, after eating a handful of locusts to-day.

The professor and others working with him in the study of the habits and flavors of the pests are convinced that by eating the locusts as fast as they appear this generation would be doing the right thing by posterity. So he did his bit and gave his verdict that to the palate the locust is a delicacy.

"If there were a scarcity of other food persons who had tasted them probably would think nothing of eating them in large quantities. Those of us who have eaten them find the flavor pleasant. It is important of course to pick them just after they have come out of their shell while they are still white and tender. After a few days they become hard and would be unsatisfactory as food."

What has interfered with the consumption has been the discovery that the locusts are not in the best of health. Many have been found suffering with a fungus trouble. After seventeen years underground many are slightly mouldy. This mould, spreading from the tail forward, will kill many of the insects, but Prof. Andrews fears that it will not cause death soon enough to prevent the laying of eggs and the propagation of the next generation, seventeen years hence.

Dogs, cats, chickens, ducks and other creatures have feasted on locusts. Fish, snakes and birds are fond of them.

Most of the cicada septendecim have red eyes. The white-eyed varieties are prized highly on account of their rarity. Several of the latter have been found by Johns Hopkins students at Homewood and will be preserved. Southern Maryland and the south end of the Maryland-Virginia peninsula are free from this pest.

LADY JANE WAS FAIR"

"The Lady Jane was tall and slim, the Lady Jane was fair." No lady can be fair and beautiful with a sallow complexion, pimples on the face, and skin eruptions which are caused by impure blood. "Number 40 For The Blood," by its wonderful alternative properties, changes certain morbid conditions of the system from a diseased to a healthy state, thereby reducing flesh when in excess. "Number 40" is employed in diseases of the glandular system, in blood poison, rheumatism, cattarrh, constipation, malaria, liver, stomach and kidney troubles. Under its use nodes, tumors, sores, ulcers, mucous patches and copper colored spots disappear as if by magic. Made by J. C. Menzenhall, 40 years a druggist, Evansville, Ind.

TEACHERS $65. BARBERS $30.

Two advertisements appeared lately in a New York newspaper one of them calling for a teacher of mathematics, history and psychology, at a salary of $65 a month. The other one called for a colored barber at $30 a week.

There is no particular reason why the barber should not get $30 a week. Milk wagon drivers are getting $33, and they don't need to know more about driving than any farm boy knows. A quick, light-fingered barber needs as much dexterity as a milk wagon driver, and deserves as good a salary.

But we are sorry for the teacher of mathematics and history. $65 each calendar month means $15 a week. The barber who gets $30 for pruning whiskers may be glad he knows nothing about mathematics or history. In Washington a teacher has to work 25 years before qualifying for a wage of $1,300 a year. In Chicago a teacher cannot get $1,000 a year before putting in 17 years in the profession. In 23 states the teachers average less than $400 a year.

And in Illinois a high school teacher who tried to persuade one of his pupils to stay and finish his education was met with an irrefutable argument. "I have a job in a mine," said the boy. "I'm making more money without an education than you are with one."

WITH THE HOME BOYS IN SERVICE

not allowed to shoot, so the game goes unharmed.

Dear Folks at Home: Only a few lines tonight so you may know that I have changed my post again. I did not stay at Neufchateau as I told you in my last letter, was ordered to report here for duty. So I'm now 80 miles farther north, and up in the Flanders where King Albert and Queen Elizabeth live. It is sure a fine building. I have never seen anything like it before.

I sure would like to be in old Kentucky once more and see how she looks compared to Germany, Belgium and France. I am sending you a picture of another city noted for its grandeur and beauty. It's the city of Strassburg, the capitol of Alsace-Lorraine, showing the towers of its famous cathedrals. It is situated on the River Rhine.

I guess this will be my last letter from over here. I think I will be sailing on the broad Atlantic right soon. I can picture my dear old farm home in my mind. I can see the grand old towering maples in the yard, and that good old cold deep well; the pretty rose border around the fence, and the pretty strawberry bushes mussels, helmets and most every thing else. Saw graves of American soldiers buried on the battlefield. Several were from the 6th Reg. The outfit Ernest was in, so I suppose he will be able to tell you some of the horrors witnessed here, as he passed through this area. I picked up a few souvenirs to-day. Lieut. Cushman, my Company Commander and I, are going to take some pictures to-morrow out on the field.

Our business here is to help move about 16,000 bodies of dead American soldiers to the National Cemetery (American), and believe me it's some task.

They have already brought 10,000 in. The work has been delayed for the last few days, but will be pushed as rapidly as possible now, as it has to be completed by about May 30th, as that is the date that has been set to dedicate the cemetery.

Pvt. Seddie Brashears, Co. G, 355 Inf.

89th Div., A. P. O. 761; A. E. F.

Gen. Pershing and most all of the big officials of France are to be present, and participate in the ceremony.

So we are putting on the finishing touch now, of those that have already been buried.

We are living in tents and all around us are shell holes. Just a few feet from out tent is a large shell that will weigh about a hundred pounds. Of course it did not explode.

There's lots of them on the field that failed to do so.

I saw Frank Kennedy on May 8th. He is in the 79th Div., and supposed only passed him on the road and did not get to say anything to him, as I didn't recognize him until I passed by. I did not dream of meeting him over here.

Well, I suppose we will be here about six weeks, in this forsaken country. Perhaps we ought not to murmur, because we are faring fine in comparison to what Ernest and those other poor boys did, when they went through here, never-the-less it is bad now, as there isn't a civilian for miles and miles around here.

It seems that unless something unforeseen happens I will be one among the last to come home. I have not heard from Ernest recently, I hope he is homeward bound, for I think he has done his part, and deserves to be sent home.

I have rather a tough job while this one lasts, but I have been having a good time every since I got my Commission until I hit this job. All I did was to ride around in our area in a big touring car, with Lieut. Cushman. We could not get out of our area, but even at that, we could ride for about thirty five miles, so that wasn't so bad after all.

Well, I believe this is about all the news I have for you this time, so will close, hoping this finds all of you well as it leaves me such. As ever, Gen. Lt. Chas E. McGary, Motor Truck Co. 439, Motor Supply Train 414 A. E. F.

SEDDIE BRASHEAR WRITES FROM GERMANY

Dear Mother: How are you? I am just fine and I hope this will find you the same.

I am sending you some views of Tries, showing some of the finest buildings I ever looked at. You can see how pretty it is. Hampfort street is the most beautiful part of the city. It has towers and cathedral spirals of all kinds. You have to look straight up to see the top of them. There are lots of things of interest to see over here.

I am sending you a map of the Western front at the close of the war. You can see Trapelle, Mihiel and Verdun which we Yanks had to take, and lots of other places we have been.

I haven't been doing much, just guarding a little. We move about so often. Everything looks alike here.

You wanted to know if I was with any of the home boys. No, I have never seen any of them yet. Was near where some of them were located at one time, but did not get to see any of them. I wrote to several friends, don't know whether they got my letters or not.

It is raining here today and very cool. But it has never been very cold over here. The farmers are getting ready to farm with their odd looking farming tools with oxen. Some have one horse. There are not many that have more than one horse. They seem to be hard run for stock of any kind. This is a poor class of people.

Germany is noted for its beautiful scenery. We can smell out when we want to on the hills and mountains to see the game, deer, hawks and all kinds of game.

So you have some little chickens. Well I hope they live and be big enough to fry when I get home, for oh, how I would love to eat a good springer!

Was surprised to hear of the wedding of Arthur Smith and Lula Gray.

You say you have started on the garden, well, I hope it will raise a good crop.

We have been having some very beautiful weather over here and it is surely some change for we have been to lots of rain.

Well, as it is about bunk time I will close. Hoping these few lines find you and all of the folks in the best of health. Your brother, Elmer.

Trees make mighty good an' steady shade. Plant a few an' let 'em grow only look, up with your children.

Louisville, Ky., June 17, 1919—"I didn't know what a 'well day' was for years until Trutona brought me the relief from my troubles that I had been searching for so long," Mrs. Fred Thompson, 829 Third avenue, wife of the superintendent of the Superior Welding Co., here, said recently.

"I suffered from stomach and intestinal indigestion and nervousness for years," she continued. "I tried every kind of treatment in a vain effort to find relief. Recently I had been losing weight steadily.

"Trutona, I'm happy to say, has put me in good condition. I have improved in every way. My digestion is restored and the nervousness has disappeared. I'm gaining weight right along now. I attribute this change to Trutona and I consider it a splendid medicine."

There is no season of the year when Trutona may be taken to better advantage than in the spring. Hundreds of people are now finding a wonderful reconstructive agency in Trutona.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Cloverport, Ky., at Wedding's Drug Store.

Time is a big factor in giving Velvet Tobacco its mildness and "character."

Velvet ages for two whole years in wooden hogsheads. During this long period the choice Burley leaves take on a kindly quality of coolness, a rich fragrance, a "taste" that appeals to pipe smokers—old and young.

Don't hurry, but just walk into the next store and lay down a dime and a nickel and say "VELVET"—the tobacco that isn't harsh but is friendly.

O'BORO PLEASED WITH RESULTS

secure it through Owensboro has never needed any effort on our part. On the other hand, Owensboro is not on the direct route of the central highway, or the route as originally proposed for it. The securing of that route through Owensboro is quite an achievement for which I am sure we should be, and are duly grateful to our friends in the central route organization who have definitely recommended the route through here.

"At a meeting in Dawson Springs recently Mr. Wiley promised that he would designate this route if the counties interested agreed to it and arranged to finance it. They have definitely agreed and claim to have made the necessary financial arrangements, so it therefore seems certain that as soon as Mr. Wiley can send the engineers over the route to make preliminary estimate and see that the financial arrangements of the different counties are satisfactory, this route will be finally designated. This ought not to take more than a few weeks.

"The contest in Hopkins county will not likely delay the project, for the organization yesterday recommended both routes and the authorities will either establish both, or they promptly will select one."

REFUTES STATEMENT ATTACKING FEDERAL LOAN

Hubert Quick, Member of Farm Board Upholds Ex- temptions.

Washington.—Herbert Quick, member of the federal Farm Loan Board, refutes the statement of persons seeking to destroy the tax exemption feature of the Federal Farm Loan Bank system that 90 per cent of the money borrowed by the farmers under the Farm Bank system is used for refunding old mortgages, and denies that Secretary of the Treasury Glass admitted this while a member of Congress.

"As a matter of fact," said Mr. Quick, "nobody has been in a position until recently to make anything more than an estimate on this matter, and the estimates of Representative McFadden, of Pennsylvania, who is seeking to remove the tax exemption from the bonds, and Secretary Glass' were as good as anybody else's. Recently the Federal Farm Loan Board had the proportion of money borrowed applied on old mortgages figured out from the books, and the result is very interesting.

"In the Springfield, Mass., district, the amount applied on old, mortgages is 68 per cent of the amount borrowed. For the other districts the figures are: Baltimore 39 per cent; Columbia, S. C., district, 64; Louisville district, 57 per cent; New Orleans, 56; St. Louis, 64; St. Paul, 66; Omaha, 54; Wichita, 53; Houston, 66; Berkley, Cal., 68; Spokane, 62 per cent.

"These computations cover loans to the amount of $169,325,520. Out of this sum $65,100,000 was used for other purposes than the repayment of old mortgages. This great sum was used to day for fencing, building materials, livestock, fertilizers, drainage and many other purposes connected with the development of agriculture. On the average, of every $100 borrowed, $38 was used for the retirement of old mortgages. A study of these figures is very interesting.

DISCUSSIONS ARISE IN ROAD MEETING

half the 300 people, who were crowded in the courtroom, left.

There were seventy-six delegates present from Webster county, who were very earnestly in favor of a route from Owensboro through Beech Grove, Sebree, Dixon and Clay and thence on to Paducah, and because the government engineer had not had time to view this route, they voted for the postponement until June 18.

The real argument started when the question of the road through Hopkins county came under discussion. Ruby Laffoon, of Hopkins, made a talk which left the impression among the delegates for a time that unless Hopkins county got the road the way he wanted it, the county would not build a road. This impression was corrected, however, before very long. The meeting took on the aspect of a three-cornered word battle between Mr. Laffoon, County Attorney T. J. Sparks, of Muhlenberg county, and County Judge W. W. Crick, of Madisonville. The Hopkins county delegation favored one route, while Mr. Sparks seemed to think the road would leave Muhlenberg county out of it.

On a final vote, the counties voted for the resolution as follows: Hopkins county, yes; Muhlenberg, yes; McLean county, yes; Daviess, yes; Ohio, yes; Breckinridge, yes; Grayson, yes; Hardin, yes; Caldwell, not voting; Lyon, not represented, and Livingston, not represented.

Harmonious Meeting

Immediately following the adjournment of the Central route committee, the Owensboro-Bowling Green route representatives held a short, harmonious meeting. Each county along the proposed route reported being ready to meet the federal department with the money. There are three routes advocated, but apparently there will be little trouble locating the route.

Rotary Club Dinner

The large dining room at the Masonic temple was filled with Rotarians and road delegates at noon yesterday. A delicious dinner was served the guests, following which a few brief talks were made by Judge Newman, Judge Sparks, Judge Scott Proctor, of Leitchfield; Attorney A. D. Kirk, of Ohio county; Father M. F. Knue, of McQuady, and others. Judge Wells presided.

A telegram from State Road Commissioner Rodman Wiley expressed his regrets at not being able to be present. The telegram which was to Judge Wells, is as follows:

"Sorry cannot be with you today. Hope that the people in that section of the state will soon raise all funds necessary to build federal aid roads. Please say to all delegates for me that we must put our shoulders to the wheel and build good roads 'not eventually, but now.'

A letter from Judge Wm. Kreiger, Jefferson county, expressed regrets that the Judge could not be present.

Woman's Club Entertained.

West Point, Ky., June 16. (Special) —The Woman's Club met at the Dixie Inn Hall, Thursday afternoon June 12. After a short business session the meeting was turned into a social affair.

Miss Lillie Goldnamer, of Elizabethtown, Mrs. BonDurant and Mrs. Ditto, of Brandenburg and Mrs. Westfall, of Camp Knox, were the distinguished visitors at the meeting with those from this city. The readings, talks and music were greatly enjoyed also the ice cream and cake afforded much pleasure to the afternoon's entertainment.

C. E. KEITH GOING TO THE MAYOS.

C. E. Keith who has not been well for some time will leave June 11, for Rochester, Minnesota, to enter the Mayo Sanatorium for examination and treatment. He is one of the city's popular and successful business men and his many friends hope for his speedy recovery and will anxiously await his return. He will be accompanied by Brooks Montgomery.—E'town News.

AIDING COUNTRY AND SELF.

Actual fighting of the World War was ended last November. But the fighting forces are not yet disbanded, and many hundreds of thousands of them are still on foreign soil. The Government still has need of large sums of money and one of the favored ways of obtaining it is through the sale of War Savings and Thrift Stamps. Purchasers should welcome this opportunity, for in return for aiding their country they receive the best security the earth can offer and learn lessons of thrift at the same time.

Spreading Compliments in Wisconsin.

Notice.—There is no one more despicable than an anonymous letter writer. She has been particularly active in trying to make trouble between husbands and wives in this city of late, but has failed in her work. When Mephisto receives this person in the lower regions we hope he will have a particularly hot place ready for her. With our compliments.

ELKS BACK CAMPAIGN OF SALVATION ARMY.

The Kentucky Elks, the "Best People On Earth" as the B. P. O. E. is generally interpreted, will back with all their usual energy and vigor the campaign to raise in Kentucky the State's quota for the Home Service work of the Salvation Army. This work in Kentucky will include "boozeless saloons in the cities now wet, where there is any demand for them, the extension of the work of the Army among the poor and the down-and-out permanent building for the Army in Lexington, which will be purchased of proper location can be found, and the regular work of the Army.

Warm endorsement of the Home Service Campaign in Kentucky is given in a telegram sent out by Secretary Fred O. Neutzel, of the Kentucky Elk's Association. The campaign in Kentucky, which was ended because of inability to get in State at the time of the National Campaign May 12, to 26, will June 23, and end June 30.

LIBERTY LOANS

First Issue, June 1917 - $2,000,000

Second Issue, November 1917 - 3,000,000

Third Issue, May 1918 - 3,000,000

Fourth Issue, October 1918 - 6,000,000

Considering only the net total of these issues (which were oversubscribed in each case), or $14,000,000, at an approximate interest of 6 per cent per year, the government will distribute each year to the holders of Liberty Bonds $560,000, which if equally divided would give $5.00 to every man, woman and child in the United States. It is one and a half times the total cost of the Panama Canal.
